ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT
Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe.

In the matter of the estate of THOMAS S.
HOLDS, deceased.

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned
Administrator of the above named estate, to the

U. C. FOWLING, Editor & Proprietor TUESDAY JULY 25, 1892.

PROGRESS AT THE SOUTH.

It is reported that the cotton crop has not been in a more unfavorable condition on the 1st of July in any of the last ten years but 1873, although, like corn, it is now rapidly improving. If the season remains favorable the crop may greatly exceed anything which would have been predicted during the great Southern floods of last Spring, but it is not likely to be more than 5,000,000 bales, and it may be much less. Yet the South has the promise of a prosperous year. The planters have at last discovered that it is best to cultivate other crops than cotton. The old State of Georgia is said to have far more growing cotton in her fields than was ever seen there before, and most other Southern States have a greater variety of crops than usual. Edward Atkinson expresses the opinion that the change is chiefly the result of the dissemination of new ideas at the Atlanta Cotton Exposition. He thinks that put influences in operation which have opened a new era of enterprise for the South. It will be universally gratifying to have confirmations of this opinion from time to time. When the spirit of enterprise takes possession of the South there will be a period of rapid growth there, such as has hardly been surpassed in the West itself.

More Land Wanted.

The thrifty Dutch are contemplating another wonder in scientific engineering. For nearly six centuries the water of the Zuyder Zee have rolled over what was once dry land. "Several of the wealthiest financiers in Holland," says the Pall Mall Gazette, "have now determined upon concentrating their energies in an attempt to reclaim the tract of land which has so long been lost to their country, and they are already engaged in making the surveys for a new set of those 'gigantic piles' which are commemorated in the verses of Andrew Marvell. Dikes which will far outstrip the stupendous works on the Island of Walcheren are in contemplation, and they will be built to such a height and of such thickness as to stand the shock of the fiercest seas that may dash against them."

Cheaper Funerals.

A large and influential meeting was recently held in England in behalf of the Church of England Funeral and Mourning Reform Association presided over by the Duke of Westminster. At this meeting resolutions affirming the desirableness of promoting a better appreciation of the idea of Christian burial and of discouraging ostentatious and expensive arrangements at funerals, such as feasting and treating and the use of shrouds, plumes and other marks of mourning, as well as the provision of flowers in such profusion as almost always characterized these occasions, were passed. There is great need of just such an organization in this country.

The Pocket Nerve.

It is singular what a community of interests exist in the markets of the world. "One touch of nature makes all the world akin," was the olden motto, but now the electric energy that moves the world and makes it all akin is the pocket nerve. The roar of those English guns thousands of miles away sent the grain market up with a rush, and their silence brought it down again. Wheat futures fell off heavily on the cessation of the conflict. Corn advanced, then declined, and a general sympathy with the eastern disturbance was noticeable all along the line.

General Crook is badly needed in Arizona. Another party of renegade White Mountain Apaches has started out from the San Carlos Reservation and is on a raid down the Gila valley. They bid fair to repeat the massacres of last spring, as the settlers, scattered over a wide range of territory, are forced to defend themselves. It would seem to be a good idea to establish a sort of military signal station near the San Carlos Reservation, so that notice could be sent of the periodical outbreak of these well-fed braves. Or perhaps General Crook will decide that it is better and cheaper to organize a good force of Indian-fighters and so thoroughly whip these Apaches that they will be glad to stay on the reservation.

Ground has been broken at Victorin, B. C., for a three-story brick structure, which will be devoted to the manufacture of clothing, cigars, tinware, boots and shoes by Chinese. The owners are all wealthy Chinamen, who intend, if possible, to monopolize the trade in the branches named. In California there is only one Chinaman to every one hundred whites; in British Columbia there is a Chinaman to every white man.

Two Objects of Virtue.

The two fine wooden plaques, fourteen by twenty-five feet square, situated in the heart of the plaza near the engine house and on which these fine specimens of art have been lately represented for the public gaze, are still remaining to delight the artistic eye of Reno's blind men. The colors have been put on in the most painter-like style, with a fine whitewash brush and the paintings are marvels of art — the Pintas. Just how long these unsightly board fences, situated right in the heart of Reno's principal plaza will be allowed to remain and torture the optic nerves of her numerous art-loving people, remains for some mysterious individual — evidently some unknown town authority to determine. The board fences were allowed to be erected only temporarily for the purpose of posting them with circus advertisements. Now that the circus has gone the way of circus flesh it is thought the board fences might go the way also of all board fence flesh, created under the circumstances.

Cairo.

Anything of an Egyptian nature is interesting at all times, but particularly just now, in view of the war raging there. A traveler gives this sketch of a city which will be apt to figure largely in Arabi Pasha's tactics:

Modern Cairo is a shabby imitation of Paris. Only 15 years ago it was still an Arab city within walls, having gates like a medieval fortress, and narrow unpaved streets, often ending in blind alleys. In those days the Mosky, the principal street of the European quarter, called after the Kantaret el Mosky, a bridge built over the canal built by a vizier of that name in the time of Saladin, was covered overhead by boarding to keep out the sun, and was entered from the Esbokie through a great vaulted gateway. Now the Mosky has paved sidewalks, is macadamized, has no boarding overhead and no gateway at the end. Then when the carriage of some great pasha came by you turned your back for fear ladies might be in it, as you would be in danger of life and liberty if you were detected looking at them; now ladies of the upper ranks drive about very much as they do here, and various princesses are well known by sight; not very long ago two Turkish ladies appeared riding on horseback on the Shoubra road. To see Cairo as an oriental city it is now needful to plunge into very unsavory back slums; year by year the most picturesque features are gradually disappearing.

Dublin's Social Life.

Social life in Dublin must be uncommonly comfortable just now. Lord Spencer gave recently a dinner party, and all the guests received official notices marked "Confidential," detailing the route to be taken from each house to the viceregal lodge, so as never to be out of sight of the patrols that were thickly posted along the whole way. Gentlemen, when they pay a visit, leave their attendant policemen in the hall. They find it exceedingly irksome sometimes. Mr. John Conolly tried to escape from his guard one day by jumping into a tram-car. What was his disgust when he saw him scrambling on the roof! It was as much as the man's place was worth to lose sight of his charge.

It will be remembered that in the great trot in Sacramento at the State Fair of 1873, between Occident and Goldsmith Maid, the general impression was created that Occident was handled by his trainer for the purpose of being beaten. In consequence of this belief Governor Stanford, the owner of Occident, refused to pay James L. Eoff, the trainer. The latter brought suit in a San Francisco Court for $700, in November. The defendant set up in his answer that Eoff was so careless, negligent and unfaithful that he forfeited all claim to compensation, and in a cross-complaint Stanford sued for $5,000 damages. With the exception of taking a lengthy deposition of Budd Doble no other steps were ever taken in the case. The action was Saturday dismissed, Eoff not appearing to prosecute his claim.

Democrats are trying to make a whoop up for State Senators this Fall on the ground that the holdovers vote for Jones' successor to the U. S. Senate. We all know how little the twelve Republican holdover Senators figured in the Fair election. A Democratic Assembly swamped them. Whoever goes for that position will be apt to get in his work two years from now, and not waste much powder on the holdovers.

Warden Crocker says that Guiteau's poem, "I'm going to the Lordy, I am so glad," was plagiarized out of a child's primer which was given to the assassin by some parties who visited him in jail last March. This relieves Guiteau of an awful responsibility.

G. I. Lammon wants to be Supreme Court Clerk, and T. H. Walls, of Esmeralda, would like to stand in for Lieutenant-Governor.

The Tribune says that if necessary the Chinese men will rally around G. I. Ellie for Governor — anything to beat Adair.

THE WORLD IN BRIEF.

Six negroes sit on the Grand Jury at Brownsville, Tenn.

Two thousand Choctaw Indians still live in Mississippi.

There are five States in the South that cannot boast a brewery.

Innumerable military companies are being organized in the South.

The French residents of New York are about 10,000 in number.

There are 76,187 more black than white children in Mississippi.

Vermont has a population of 332,285, of whom 40,959 are foreign born.

Eagles carry live prey to their young and teach them to tear and kill it.

One hundred and fifty soldiers of the war of 1812 still live in Kentucky.

About one-third of the rye crop of the United States is grown in Illinois.

Key West gambles $12,000 away each month on lotteries operated in that city.

The net funded debt of the City of New York on June 30th was $98,658,813 38.

No city on the Mediterranean lies more exposed to an attack by water Alexandria.

As a rule, the Boston barmen extract 400 glasses of beer from a single keg, which costs $2.

There are 1,344 convicts in the Missouri State Penitentiary, thirty-eight of whom are females.

Fifty-four persons starved to death in London last year. A majority of the victims were women.

More than 300 persons have already been killed this year by tornadoes, and not one by an earthquake.

The practice of going to Europe to travel and rest costs the United States about $125,000,000 annually.

The interest on our public debt is now about $1 08 for every inhabitant. In 1875 it was more than twice this.

Twelve perpendicular feet of water are annually evaporated from the surface of the Red Sea between Nubia and Arabia.

Of the 504 new convicts who were received into the Ohio Penitentiary last year seventeen had college education and fourteen had taken high school courses.

You can never entirely discourage a New Jersey man. When he comes down to his last dollar he picks a spade and goes out to dig up some of Kild's buried treasure.

Arizona covers an area of 72,000,000 acres of land, four-tenths of which is mineral bearing. It is larger than New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware combined.

The Modes captured at the lava beds eight years ago were put upon a reservation of a few thousand acres in the extreme northeastern corner of the Indian Territory, left pretty much to take care of themselves, and have made remarkable progress in civilization. The most of them have log houses and cultivate small farms in tolerable shape, and the squaws turn a considerable penny by making baskets and the like. They all wear the clothing of civilization and pride themselves upon abandoning savage habits.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease, or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disfigure the stomach like cough syrups and balms, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compounds, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it for you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.
